

Technology and Ethics for Sustainable Development

A Lecture delivered by Prof. Mangesh Teli

As part of the lecture series titled 'Dialogues on Development', the Bahá'í Chair for Studies in Development at Devi Ahilya Vishwavidyalaya, Indore is pleased to announce a lecture delivered online by Prof. Mangesh Teli, renowned academician and scientist in the field of textile technologies, on Friday September 29, 2023 from 4.30 to 5.30 pm on the theme 'Technology and Ethics for Sustainable Development'. Those interested in participating in the lecture may register at the following link: <https://forms.gle/FNRtZKJvN4CaeVCs6>

Abstract of the lecture:

This lecture will explore the nexus between technology and ethics in the context of promoting the broad objective of sustainable development. Prof. Mangesh Teli, a renowned academician and scientist in the field of textile technologies, will draw upon his own research work in developing sustainable technologies to shed light on the implications of ensuring that the developmental potential of new technologies are oriented by ethical frameworks in serving the common good.

About the speaker:

Prof. Mangesh D. Teli, is a Former Member, Board of Governors, Institute of Chemical Technology, Mumbai. In his over 40 years of experience as an academician during which he served as Professor and Head of the Department in Textile Chemistry, he guided over 150 research students and has 450 publications to his name. Prof. Teli is the recipient of various fellowships and awards for academic excellence and he is an honorary fellow of the Maharashtra Academy of Sciences and the Textile Association of India. In addition to this, his expertise in textile technology has been drawn upon by for initiatives involving the highest levels of government and industry.